Zusammenfassung / Résumé

With the input of the Department of Player Safety and upon video review, Marc Wieser from HC Davos makes contact with an opponent deemed “Elbowing” – IIHF Rule 45.

From the DPS’s perspective, Wieser’s actions require supplemental discipline.

As the video shows, #65 Wieser from Davos picks up the loose puck below the goal line in Fribourg’s zone. He plays the puck around the boards towards #6 Dahlbeck. After the puck is gone, he is check by #95 De la Rose. The check is delivered on the limit of being late. There is slight head contact due to the fact Wieser moves his head just prior to contact. The DPS deems there should have been a minor penalty on this scene. After the check, #65 approaches #95 from the back, has his left arm away from his body, and up at shoulder height. He swings his arm and body to the right rotating towards his opponent using his elbow to make contact with the head of his opponent. (Corner Cam 1 and 2) He strikes De la Rose with force in the head. #95 does not have the puck. This was not an accidental play by Wieser. Contact as such must be avoided and cannot be tolerated.
